The menu was created by one of America's rising culinary stars, executive chef Philip Wang, who has worked in some of the finest restaurants in the nation. Mason's features modern American cuisine, a combination of California cuisine -- where local, fresh ingredients are key -- and advanced classical cooking techniques to draw out the maximum flavor from each product. The menu will change seasonally and promise to be familiar and yet pleasantly surprising.

Chef Wang's food is both delicious and appealing, sure to satisfy even the most discriminating of palettes. Chef Wang's satisfying cuisine is paired with Mason's beautifully choreographed and generally warm service. Mason's offers a synthesis of what is desired with what is unexpected. It truly is one of Sacramento's most ambitious, yet comforting restaurants.

Mason's is located in The Park Downtown, a magnificent 20,000 square foot adobe-toned building on the corners of 15th and L streets in Sacramento.
